Working as a professional photographer and video producer in England and Switzerland over the past 10 years, has given me the opportunity to meet so many interesting people, learn many skills and gain valuable experience, whilst allowing me to explore many amazing places around the world.

Even when I am not working, the camera is always close by my side, as I continue to create and build my personal projects and portfolio work. This is my passion.

Weddings are full of life, happiness, and joy. It is a privilege to be asked to capture and be part of a couple's special day. I do this with a sense of pride and enthusiasm, using the skills I have learnt over the years to document the day, for you and loved ones to enjoy in years to come.

For me, photography is life.
Having the power to stop time,
capturing those fleeting moments that pass us by,
and holding that moment forever,
its magical.
